PROJECT

Student Dashboard (website)

I have worked on a project titled "Student Dashboard," developed using PHP, MySQL, JavaScript, HTML, CSS, and other web technologies. This project gave me valuable hands-on experience in web development and problem-solving, which helped me enhance my technical and analytical skills.

Largest number finder (Application)

Developed an Android application to identify the largest number among three user-given inputs. The app includes a simple and user-friendly interface designed using XML and performs the logic using Java.
